Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Tuesday 21 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Dry and warm, with hazy sunshine. Fog possible overnight.

Today:
A fine and dry day, with any early fog soon clearing to leave long spells of hazy sunshine. Patchy cloud developing in eastern areas through the afternoon, but even then, sunny spells still possible there. Feeling warm in the sun. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Tonight:
Skies clear through the evening to leave a dry night. Light winds will allow fog patches to develop quite widely through the early hours of Wednesday. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Wednesday:
Mist or fog will clear through the morning to leave a dry day with frequent sunny spells and some patchy cloud. Staying dry overnight with a chance of fog patches. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Generally dry but breezier on Thursday, with some sunny spells. Any patchy light rain and cloud clearing to sunny spells on Friday. Often cloudy on Saturday, possibly with some showers.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.